Improve the guest experience

Understand the current state of your restaurant by viewing tables, number of guests, total guest check details and amounts, and more. You can use this information in real-time to actively improve the guest experience by adjusting your staff and operations and have more detailed table visits with customers.

Respond to the entire business whether you're on or off property

Stay in-the-know and be more responsive to your business with real-time alerts. No more waiting for end-of-day, shift reports or potentially inaccurate reports from your stores' shift managers.
